Newsletter – 26.6.25– Farmor's School

Happy inset eve! We are very lucky to have a longer weekend coming up. I am slowly making my way through covering the amazing brand new books gifted to us from ReadforGood the charity we support with our annual Readathon. You can see just a handful of the new titles below. I'm really looking forward to welcoming the Year 6's for the library inductions next week. If you're in year 7 now, you may remember the book tasting from your induction last year! We'll be running the same activity again so please be mindful of this when using the library at break and lunch on Tuesday & Wednesday.

RESOURCE OF THE WEEK

I wish I had the time to read every single book in our library AND all of the exciting new books that are published each week. Alas, I do not. But I have discovered 'Books for Keeps' which is a fantastic way to see what new books are about if you don't have a librarian to hand :)
